Shannon says:

"It is important to maintain balance in your daily routine to strive for success in all that you do and live a healthy and fit lifestyle. Life is full of turns and twists and takes us on paths that we least expect. Through those times, you have to keep a positive attitude and never give up or back down. The outcome will prove rewarding and put you a path of growth and success. Gymnasts need to be strong and flexible. Staying active and healthy is important so that if a health issue pops up, you will be fit for the challenge."
